BACKGROUND AND DISCUSSION

In August 1997, California Welfare Reform Legislation (AB 1542) was signed into law. This law established the CalWORKs program and mandated a three stage child care payment system. This system was designed to allow all eligible CalWORKs families the opportunity to access child care in order to work or attend some type of training program with the goal of becoming economically self-sufficient. The availability of quality child care is essential to the success of the CalWORKs child care program.

Eligibility for CalWORKs child care begins when a family starts receiving CalWORKs cash aid and participates in the Welfare-to-Work (WTW) program. Napa County, through its contract with CRC, administers the Stage One child care program. Stage One child care provides current CalWORKs cash aid recipients assistance with paying for child care with a provider of their choice, if they are employed or participating in county approved WTW activities. Child care is provided for children through the age of 12, and for exceptional needs and severely disabled children up to age 21. The Stage One program ensures that access to stable child care is never a barrier to participating in the WTW program.

Under the prior regulations for CalWORKs child care programs, child care was only authorized once an activity was approved and for only the length of time and amount of hours for that activity. This provided instability for families in CalWORKs as they could lose child care placements and have to change child care providers due to the rigid standards of the prior regulations.

The Scope of Work is revised in this agreement to reflect the updated regulations that now permit immediate and continuous childcare authorizations for an eligible CalWORKs family. These families will now be eligible to receive 12 months of continuous child care. Child care is mandated to be authorized full-time (30 or more hours per week) upon granting of the CalWORKs case for eligible families. This change allows for a family to have access to stable, full-time child care while the family is in receipt of CalWORKs.

Immediate and continuous child care eligibility is part of a two-generational approach to disrupt the cycle of poverty by simultaneously focusing on the needs of parents and children. Immediate and continuous child care alleviates potential instability caused by frequent changes to WTW activities or other circumstances that require multiple childcare authorizations while engaged in WTW.
